hi there! I'm Elise!

I founded Organized Sanctuaries because I've got a passion for simplicity, am obsessed with all things tidy, and love using my organizational skills to make others happy and calm.

I'm also a mom of two girls, ages 9 and 4, so I get the mom life, and all the hectic, messy moments that come with a busy family life.

I believe that an organized home is about making physical changes that allow you and your family members to focus on what's important: the people and belongings that bring meaning to your life, without the distraction of unneeded clutter.

let's keep in touch!

send me an email or dm on Instagram and let me know a goal you or dream you have for your home
